To whom it may concern,

I am a licensed doctor who has evaluated the emotional profile of Najeeah Anderson and determined Najeeah qualifies for two Emotional Support Animals (ESA). Najeeah is experiencing high levels of stress. Najeeah's high stress levels have imposed limitations in quality of life and daily functioning. Najeeah's distress is imposing a negative influence over lifestyle. In light of Najeeah's disruptive stress level, I believe the stress is such that Najeeah Anderson will benefit from having two Emotional Support Animals. The animals will help provide a safe and more consistent emotional support system. Having Emotional Support Animals will provide Najeeah a constructive soothing stress management solution in order to help keep calmness and to help prevent any possibilities of escalating stress that could cause further complications to overall well-being.

The emotional distress that Najeeah experiences is such, I have recommended that their two pets be recognized as "Emotional Support Animals" and be allowed to live with Najeeah under the United States Fair Housing Amendment Act of 1988. In order to help Najeeah cope with stress, enhance ability to function and live happier to fully enjoy the dwelling you own or manage; Najeeah should be able to keep the following pets at their home as Emotional Support Animals.

1. Cat (Himalayan), named Bubbles that weighs approximately 10 lbs.
2. Cat (Domestic Short Hair), named Binx that weighs approximately 13 lbs.

It is also recommended that Najeeah Anderson be allowed to have their pets with them at restaurants, stores, hotels, trains, buses and ride share services.

This ESA approval is valid until 11/23/2023.

Respectfully,

Dr. Alysia Ogburia, MD
